The Dos & Don'ts of blind dating.

Sumi Kang & Yunseo Lee

Have you ever been on any blind dates? Even though it sounds very weird for foreigners, it's a natural way to meet someone in Korea. If you're suffering from loneliness in this very cold winter, why don't you go on a blind date?
Here are some very useful tips for you!!!!

Let's hear from a person on the IETTP course.

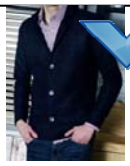

Miss Choi says : I've been on about 80 blind dates. But they haven't come to anything. When I was younger, I sometimes used to have two blind dates a day. I remember meeting some strange guys during that period. I met someone on a blind date several years ago and I didn't like him. I told him "NO" but he kept calling me. In the end, I had to change my phone number.

Dos & Don'ts

	Men	Women
Dos	1. Plan ahead. - Don't hesitate where to go and what to eat. You should look confident. 2. Be considerate of her feeling.	1. Share the cost of the date - Don't make him pay for everything. Why don't you pay for dessert? 2. Hang on his every word with a very warm smile. - Be liberal with your praise. Praise makes him feel happy.
Don'ts	1. Don't mention the age or body shape of your date. 2. Don't keep on questioning her. - You are not in a court. You are not a prosecutor. 3. Don't talk about yourself or show off too much. 4. Don't cut her words off. - It might make her zip up her mouth. 5. Don't take your joke too far. - Even though you intend to make her laugh, it might not be funny at all.	1. Don't give short response such as "Yes" or "No". - It might make him struggle to make another topic. 2. Don't mention income. - He might be ashamed of his income. 3. Don't judge him straightway. - He is not an object to be judged. 4. Don't talk too much. - You have to keep something secret, so that he wants to know more and more on the next date. 5. Don't act like you're perfect. - He could come close to you, because he will see that you have weak points which he can fill up.

Tips for clothing

Men
Wear a stylish T-shirt, jeans and make you are neat.

Don't wear skinny jeans, tracksuit or be too formal.

Women
Wear a one-piece dress with light color and fabric to look pure or you could wear a cardigan or jacket.

Don't wear a dress looks like princess, leopard print things, ugg boots or leggings. Wear some makeup but not too much.

Do you feel ready to go on a blind date? It looks complicated, but think it simple! Just be yourself. You are all set to go!

K - POP

Jane & Sojoong

☆ What is K-Pop?

K-Pop(Korean: Gayo) is a musical genre consisting of dance, eletropop, hip hop, rock and R&B, music originating in South Korea. In addition to music, K-pop has grown into a popular sub culture among teenagers and young adults around the world, resulting in widespread interest in the fashion and style of Korean idol groups and singers.

☆ Wonder Girls

I notice that as the official ambassador of the Korean Agro-Fisheries Trade Corporation, the Wonder Girls have unleashed a promotional campaigh MV called "K-FOOD Party" onto You Tube!
As I think about the fact that the Korean wave is responsible for achieving over one billion dollars in revenue annually for South Korea through cultural exports, it touches my heart. At first, I didn't like K-pop but more and more I realize that it has some attraction.

☆ Who are favoriate K-pop idol groups and singers?

1. Wonder Gilrs
2. Girls'Generation
3. KARA
4. T-Ara
5. 2PM

So Nyeo Shi Dae is often referred to SNSD, which is an acronym of the group's Korean name. "Gee" is my favorite song which was sung by SNSD in 2009. It is a fast-tempo dance music about a girl who has fallen in love for the first time and is at a loss with joy of love. The title is supposed to be an exclamation of surprise, similar to in meaning to "Oh, my goodness!"
It is a great attractive song that is easy to sing along for some reasons such as the repeat of Gee, peculiar rhythmical lyrics, and it immediately catches our attention through the melody line refrain. When it came out in 2009, it was also easy for young and old people to imitate dance because of the simple and exciting motions. It has swept across Korea. We could hear "Gee" in the street, cafe, and any where we passed when it reached the peak of its popularity in 2009. Everybody hummed it to themselves and stepped to it. I remember that my younger son who tended to be shy in general tried to dance to "Gee" in the way of the peculiar steps of it in front of us. We had a great time singing "Gee" together .
These days we cannot see them very often on TV or radio in Korea because SNSD is loved by people around world, especially in Japan. They began working in Japan in 2010. They rose to the top on the Daily Charts and the Oricon weekly ranking. They were named on Asia Today's list of 50 Korean power leaders for 2011 at the No.44 spot, being the only idol group from the list.
I am proud of SNSD who delivers our culture and attracts interests in Korea around the world. The magical tune to make me hum "gee gee..." is flashing across my mind now.

Spice up your life in Seoul!

The taste of Italy in a Korean house!

If you want to taste Italy in a Korean atmosphere, Dan-A restaurant is the ideal place. Hidden secretly in a narrow path in the Jongro area right across from the Seong-Gok Art Museum, and 10 minutes walk from Gwang Hwamun Station, Dan-A restaurant is an unbelievably calm and serene place disguising itself as a traditional Korean house known as 'Han-Ok'.

The atmosphere and the interior of the restaurant are quite unique because the architectural design of the restaurant is a Korean style house but the food is Italian. They serve Italian cuisine and some fusion dishes to meet the needs of Korean customers.

Like the Korean traditional house, Han-Ok, the restaurant has a tiled roof (Giwa in Korean), wooden beams, and a cosy inner courtyard called 'Madang'. There are some small baskets filled with wine bottles in Korean style courtyard which shows the coming together of two cultures, East and West. In addition, the doors and windows of the house-like restaurant are decorated with Hanji (Korean traditional paper).

To start, Italian bread such as focaccia and ciabatta with a dish of balsamic vinaigrette gives an edge to your appetite. The set menu includes a bowl of soup, a bowl of green salad with pesto dressing, and vongole pasta. The cosy but sophisticated atmosphere of Dan-A is a must if you want a romantic and peaceful moment in the hustle and bustle of Seoul.

Wanna try authentic 'Fish n chips' in Seoul?

Why not try Sydney Seafood Fish 'n' Chips, which is the best place for fish and chips in Seoul. It is located in Itaewon and five minutes walk away from Noksapyeong subway station.

The best thing to order here is the battered fish and chip set, which includes two pieces of hot perfectly fried fish, tasty thick chips, crispy salad and one bottle of soft drink. If you want Hoegaarden beer you can order it instead of a soft drink for an additional 4000 won. They serve very fresh wheat beer which has a good head and taste fruity.

They also serve grilled fish instead of fried for the health-conscious customer. Most of all, the homemade tartare sauce that goes well with fried seafood is fantastic. If you want a view, you can sit on the high seats overlooking Gyeongnidan street and you can enjoy the cosy atmosphere with your beloved.

Old tree (SBS Wed, Thu 9:55)

It is a drama, the original novel is "The deep-rooted tree". It deals with the serial murder incidents of Jiphyeonjeon scholars in Kyungbok Palace for 7 days before publishing Hunminjungeum. Leedo is King Sejong, the fourth Josun dynasty's King, a typical uncommon genius, an awful workaholic being troubled with insomnia but a righteous monarch who understands people very deeply. Kang chae youn is a slave-turned-detective, tasked with investigating a series of murders linked to Hangeul project, he decides to kill Leedo because he thinks his father died for the king. Actress Shin Se-gyeong is playing a court lady who helps out with Hangeul project, can't speak by aphasia. It's not just a period drama but sheds new lights on the response from other countries. The distinguished scholars rated highly the creativity and superiority of Hangeul. It contains the meaning of the right sounds to teach people and one of UNESCO Memory of the World. This drama covers the people who make hangeul and the people accept it equally. So it is very meaningful, I think.

Promise (SBS Mon, Tue 9:55)

It's about an incredibly sad love story between a doomed woman who is diagnosed with Alzheimer's losing her ability to remember at 30 and the man who is a slightly stand-offish architect and refuses to let anything dampen his love for the lady and shows how completely and purely he can love one woman as a devoted knight. She wants to hang on to love and experience it the very last moment, when she loses her memory. Her character is aggressive and free-spirited enough to love a man engaged to another woman. The main heroine is stunning and elegant Su Ae and the hero is brilliant and gorgeous Kim rae-won. So it's a soppy soap opera but very touchable and tragic love story. It's a very noble and pure, real love story, I think. It's an autumn appropriate melodrama written by Kim Su-hyun.

Star Audition the Great Birth 2 (MBC Friday 10:00)

It is a talent program. Many challengers take part to become singers at the auditions. The number of participants with talent for music in the world apply for this audition. They have to compete with others and they must survive. This program has mentors and mentees. There are 5 mentors who are Park Junghyun, Yun sang, Lee Seunghwan, Youn Ilsang. Lee Sunhyee. One mentor choose 4 mentees. Each mento trains 4 mentees in mento school. They will carry out various missions in a live broadcast. They get evaluation from audiences and mentoes. One challenger is eliminated every live broadcast. It is a good program which see global musicians with various experience and great music abilities. Sometimes some views are extremely impressed by this program. Even though participant grew up in a poor environment, they recover from these difficulties and then become singers.

Survival : I am a singer (MBC Sunday 6:00)

This is now the talk of the town. This program started an interesting reality show called “Survival: I am a Singer.” It’s basically a survival reality TV show with individual performances, involving seven of the best Korean singers in different genres. These singers are some of the most popular and most talented live performers we’ve seen in the past. Each participant gets to perform once every episode, and based on the number of votes they receive from the seven comedian panel and the 500 live audiences, one singer gets eliminated and replaced by a new singer. The seven comedians serve as designated managers for each singer, who will be asked to help complete a mission from next week.

The results are surprising. Sometimes I'm not agree with the 500 live audiences. but It is a good chance to see famous singers who are nervious in the show.

Q1: What is the most impressive book for you?
Q2: How this book affected your life?

Sam

A1: 1984 by George Orwell

A2: It made me want to write a novel in such a brilliant but very simple style.

Neil

A1: I'd probably go with the Russian novel 'Anna Karenina'.
It's romantic in a subtle way and it's like a journey through life.

A2: I remember reading this while living in Prague. I felt immersed in a Slavic world at the time so it was great to read some Russian literature. It made me want to move to the countryside. I still have a dream of living on a farm, growing my own vegetables and not having to put up with the day to day rush and nonsense of living in a city.

Sungkyung

A1: The Norwegian wood by Murakami Haruki

A2: I was fascinated by the writer's writing style and his perspectives about love and life.

Jo Jeong

A1: To kill a mocking bird by Harper Lee

A2: The story is narrated by a little girl named Jean Louise "Scout" Finch. It is an exploration of human morality, and presents a constant conversation regarding the inherent goodness or evilness of people. I realised how valuable acting according to my conscience is.

Relationship between Man & Woman

We were always curious about our tutors' relationships. Here are their answers. Narsha & Nahyun

1. What do you look for in a partner?

Edward - I think attraction is related to the whole of a person, not just a set of small parts. I usually gravitate towards people who like art and music.

Amy - I would look for someone who I get along well, with and has the same sense of humor and enjoys doing similar things.

Neil - I appreciate a girl who knows how to dress and has pretty eyes.

Sam - Someone attractive who I get along with, rarely argue with, doesn't sulk or get moody.

Sohyoung - Personality: loving, generous, faithful, hard-working, Christian.
I don't mind about all the other bits e.g. appearance etc.

2. What's the most attractive thing about your partner?

Edward - My wife has convictions in her artistic tastes such as Frida Kahlo and Gustav Klimt.

Amy - His sense of humor.

Neil - She's funnier than me!

Sam - Her nose.

Sohyoung - He puts me first.

3. What made you decide to get married?

Amy - We wanted to have a family some day, and felt we'd like to be married to do that.

Neil - We had been going out for 4 years so it seemed like the right time. The idea of marriage just came into my head out of the blue.

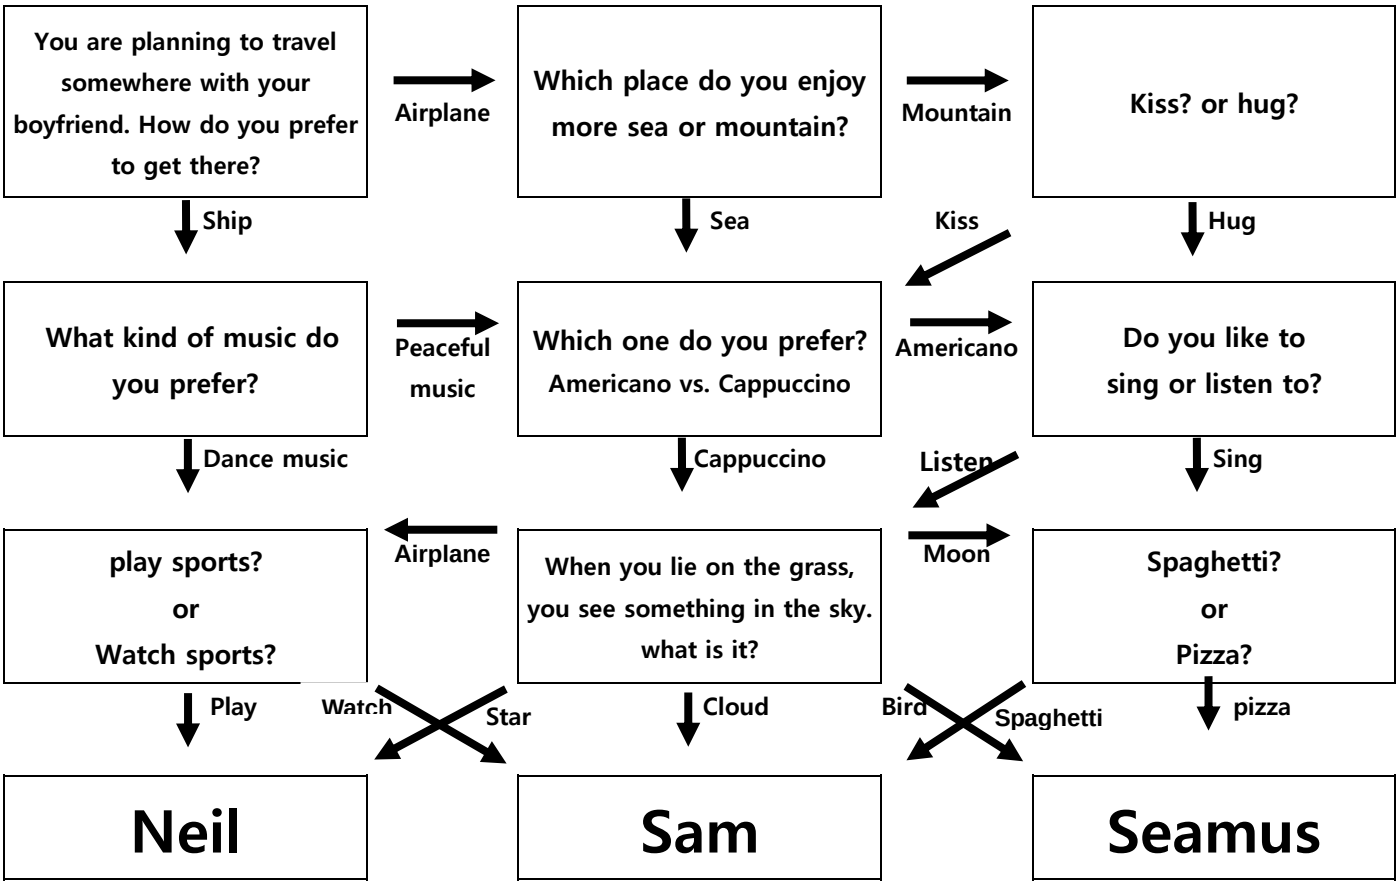

Sam - Love!

Sohyoung - His generosity and passion for his job.

Most Korean women prefer someone who has specific conditions such as certain height(175~185cm), family(property), job(which ends with 사 like a judge(판사), a lawyer(변호사), a doctor(의사), a prosecutor(검사), etc.) So do we. We are always looking forward to meeting perfect guy who is qualified with above things. However, it's just our ideal. We are still living in the fantastic dream like children. It's time to wake up. It's time to down to the earth. As you read, our tutors were focus on love with their partners. In class, whenever they talk about their partner, they really look happy. Perhaps, they already knew about "a condition of love" not a "a condition for love".

Do you still stick a picture of a model on your fridge to lose weight?

A study found that of 78% who failed, many had focused on the downside of not achieving the goals. They just imagined being successful and adopted a role model or relied on willpower alone. However they simply don't work.

Here are the strategies of some people who kept their resolutions.

❶ Break your goal into smaller steps including specific activities.

1. Early English education has been overheating in Korea. Also, there are lots of English kindergartens in Korea. What do you think about that?

There are advantages and disadvantages of early learning, but I personally feel that language should be means of communication and not the purpose of its own. This means that children should be developed cognitively first in their mother tongue and then learn to use the second language to exchange their thoughts and feelings with others. I think what is important is how they learn the second language, rather than when to learn it.

2. Do you have any tips for teaching English to your children?

Actually, I don't teach English to my children at home, simply because I don't have very much time. However, what I try very hard is to provide them with opportunities to be exposed to English as much as possible, so that they want to find out and learn about English, rather than me pouring down the knowledge.

3. What makes you teach English teachers?

When I was trying to help my own children learn English I realized that being a fluent speaker is one thing and becoming a good teacher is another and they are totally different things. So, I took a TESOL course and I learnt a lot. I realized that there are better ways to teach English and tried the new methods to my children. I was fascinated to notice that they learned much better. One day, my son who is at the 5th grade "Mom, I wish you could teach English at our school. It will be much more fun!" I then thought it would be wonderful if I could share all the good things I learnt with many teachers. I always feel honored to meet so many teachers who are devoted to teaching and to be able to share what I have learnt.

4. Can you give some advice to English teachers?

I am always impressed by the passion of the teachers for English education at schools, and I feel that is reflected in the active participation during the training. I just would like to say big thanks for that and please keep up the good work!

1. What do you think about early English education in Korea?

I think it is ok if you need to organise childcare for your kids and you hire a babysitter who speaks English to them, they might pick up some English as they grow up. If you're spending a lot of money sending them to classes when you could be looking after them yourself it's probably a bit of a waste of money.

2. Koreans sometimes have some troubles about learning English. Can you give us any advice?

The best way to improve is lots of practice. A few Koreans I know organise their own speaking clubs when they're not attending lessons to keep their English at the same level or improve. This is a good and cheaper alternative if you can't afford to pay for lessons. Obviously the internet can be a great help too with all its reading and listening resources.

3. What would you like to say to this course's primary school teachers?

I like teaching on IETTP courses because the students are lively and enthusiastic and more willing to get involved in the activities than other types of class. It's nice getting to know your students well over a long period of time too. I just hope that you manage to put some of the things you learn on the course into practice when you get back to your schools.
